Policy

It is the policy of the Commonwealth to protect the health of state employees and the public and to provide continuity of services to the citizens of the Commonwealth during times of pandemic illness.

Purpose

This policy permits or requires eligible employees to attend to the medical needs of self and immediate family members by providing up to 80 hours¹ of paid leave per leave year when Communicable Disease of Public Health Threat conditions as defined in Section 32.1-48.06, et. seq Code of Virginia, have been declared by the State Health Commissioner and Governor.

This policy can be partially or fully implemented upon declaration of a Communicable Disease of Public Health Threat, in anticipation of Exceptional Circumstances, or in response to a specific incident. The Director of the Department of Human Resource Management (DHRM) or his/her designee has the authority to implement all or select provisions of this policy and to grant exceptions on an agency-by-agency basis in order to ensure use in the intended manner and to meet the unique operational requirements of any situation.

Agencies should develop written plans and/or procedures consistent with this policy to address employee communication and unique staffing and business needs.

¹ *80 hours of paid leave is consistent with paid leave available to eligible employees under Policy 4.17, Emergency/Disaster Assistance and with the recognized duration of communicable diseases anticipated by this policy.

ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURES

PUBLIC HEALTH EMERGENCY LEAVE

Purpose

These procedures accompany the Public Health Emergency Leave Policy and are designed to assist agencies prior to and during Exceptional Circumstances requiring the protection of employees, customers, and the public from exposure to a communicable disease and upon formal declaration of a Communicable Disease of Public Health Threat by the State Health Commissioner pursuant to Section 32.1-48.06, Code of Virginia.

A. Procedures During Exceptional Circumstances

Upon the State Health Commissioner's determination of the existence of Exceptional Circumstances relating to one or more persons within the Commonwealth who are known to have been exposed to or infected with a Communicable Disease of Public Health Threat, but prior to any formal declaration or emergency office closing decision, state agencies must apply the following procedures:

1. Agencies will remain open for business. All employees are expected to report to work as usual.
2. Agencies must review their Continuity of Operations Plans (COOP) and revise as necessary in anticipation of widespread staffing deficiencies.
3. Employees must receive a copy of the Department of Human Resource Management's (DHRM's) Public Health Emergency Leave Policy at this time unless previously provided through standard employee communication procedures.
4. DHRM Policy 1.35, Emergency Closings, requires that all employees be designated as essential or non-essential and allows the designation to be situation-specific. Employees must be reminded of their designations and related performance expectations during Exceptional Circumstances and during a declaration of Communicable Disease of Public Health Threat.
5. Agencies must communicate with employees in a clear and timely manner to ensure that employees are aware of the status of public health concerns, the agency's COOP requirements, agency efforts to reduce the spread of, or exposure to, infection, and applicable human resource policies.

6. Employees will be compensated according to established compensation policies and overtime regulations.
7. Telecommuting work agreements should be executed for employees who can work at alternative locations to further promote social distancing. Those with approved telecommuting work agreements should be encouraged to work off site to reduce the risk of exposure. Agencies must consider business needs to ensure that services to the public are not disrupted.
8. Agencies should consider expanding the use of alternate work schedules to reduce employee contact.
9. An agency may temporarily reassign employees to minimize critical staffing deficiencies. The reassignment must be consistent with employees' qualifications and training.
10. Employees who become ill prior to a formal declaration of Communicable Disease of Public Health Threat are subject to existing state leave policies. Managers should encourage these employees to use existing leave to attend to their medical needs.

B. Workplace Safety and Hygiene

Agencies are required to implement measures that reduce the spread of communicable diseases in the workplace as recommended by the Virginia Department of Health, the Centers for Disease Control, and related Workers' Compensation policies and laws. This includes, but is not limited to, the following:

1. Formally advising employees of precautionary measures that apply to the workplace and home, including the provision of community health or online resources that offer information and assistance on communicable disease prevention, respiratory manners, signs and symptoms of the disease, and when to seek medical attention.
2. Actively encouraging employees to independently take proactive steps to protect themselves and their families.
3. Making arrangements with landlords, contractors, or cleaning staff that ensure that agency offices and facilities are cleaned using techniques and cleaning agents that reduce the spread of infection.

C. Procedures Upon Declaration of a Communicable Disease of Public Health Threat

1. Upon declaration and within the period of a Communicable Disease of Public Health Threat, all employees are eligible for up to 80 hours of paid leave per leave year to attend to their own medical condition and/or to care for immediate family members residing in an Affected Area.
2. At agency discretion, wage employees may also be eligible for paid leave under these conditions. Agencies have the authority to limit the number of eligible hours to less than 80 for wage employees based on critical business needs and available funding, however paid leave may not exceed the number of work hours normally scheduled per week. For example, a wage employee who normally works twenty hours per week would only be eligible for twenty hours of paid leave due to a week-long absence. Wage employees are subject to the same leave request process as other employees. (Refer to Section D.)

D. Paid Public Health Emergency Leave

In order to qualify for paid Public Health Emergency Leave, an employee must submit the required agency leave request form to his/her immediate supervisor or to the supervisor's designee. The request should be submitted in a timely manner but must be submitted no later than the employee's return to work or upon an absence of 80 hours. Agencies should assist the employee in the completion and submission of this request.

Agencies may also stipulate that one or more of the following conditions be met in order to qualify for paid Public Health Emergency Leave:

1. The employee's primary care provider, a Public Health Official, or an Acceptable Medical Authority may be required to confirm the diagnosis of a communicable disease of public threat that requires isolation and/or medical attention for a specified period of time.
2. The employee's primary care provider, a Public Health Official, or an Acceptable Medical Authority may be required to confirm the employee's exposure to a communicable disease of public threat and recommend removal from the workplace for a specified period of time.
3. The employee's primary care provider, a Public Health Official, or an Acceptable Medical Authority may be required to confirm that an eligible member of an employee's immediate family is diagnosed with a Communicable Disease of Public Health Threat.

4. Employees may be responsible for providing written confirmation of the diagnosis and/or isolation requirements according to clinical recommendations published by the Virginia Department of Health.
5. Recovering employees whose illness and/or isolation extends beyond 80 hours must use existing leave and/or disability policies to cover the remainder of their absences. Wage employees whose illness and/or isolation extends beyond the maximum number of paid leave hours allowed by their agency will not be paid.

E. Workplace Attendance

Employees are expected to report to work as usual unless ill or as otherwise directed by the Governor, their Agency Head, or the State Health Commissioner. Failure to report to work or to perform assigned duties may result in disciplinary action.

An agency may temporarily reassign employees to minimize critical staffing deficiencies. The reassignment must be consistent with the employees' qualifications and training.

F. Illness in the Workplace

Upon declaration of a Communicable Disease of Public Health Threat, agencies should direct ill employees to leave the workplace and attend to their medical needs. Time away from the job site to comply with this directive shall be applied toward the 80 hours of pre-authorized Public Health Emergency Leave. These employees are subject to the same leave request process as all other employees. (Refer to Section D.)

An employee's refusal to leave the workplace under these circumstances may result in disciplinary action.

G. Emergency Office Closings

If the Public Health Threat requires the closing of an agency or agencies, employees will be compensated in accordance with Policy 1.35, Emergency Closings.
